As non-partisan advocates, the Government Relations team maintains the profession’s cornerstone principles of competence, integrity, and objectivity, all while providing these PICPA member-only services:

- Collaborating with PICPA member committees to develop proposed legislative and regulatory policies and priorities
- Educating lawmakers and public officials about issues concerning the CPA profession
- Monitoring state legislation and regulatory actions to determine their effect on the CPA profession
- Communicating regulatory and legislative updates to members
- Advocating on behalf of PICPA

The end result is evident: PICPA members and the Government Relations team influence change that advances the CPA profession and Pennsylvania’s business climate.
